

KRAMBERGAI COMPANYGPT

Your own AI assistant for internal knowledge, processes and everyday tasks.

Many companies already use ChatGPT or Microsoft Copilot here and there — yet the value stays limited, because the AI doesn't know your company's own knowledge, ignores internal workflows and follows no consistent rules. CompanyGPT is an AI assistant for mid-sized businesses, built on approved knowledge, defined processes and clear usage rules — for research, writing, summaries, proposal preparation and the recurring tasks of everyday work.

THE PROBLEM

AI use across the business often stays unstructured. Important knowledge sits scattered across emails, PDFs, folders and the CRM — the AI can't see it and returns only generic answers.

- AI is used inconsistently and without clear rules
- Internal knowledge isn't cleanly available to the AI
- Answers stay generic rather than company-specific
- Good prompts and results are never reused
- Documents are searched, copied and summarized by hand
- Leaders have little visibility into where AI genuinely helps

THE SOLUTION

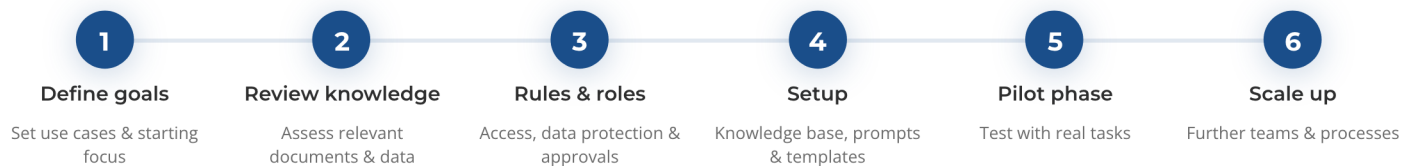

A company-specific assistant, tailored to your language, ways of working and approved knowledge sources. Employees ask in plain language — and receive structured answers, drafts and summaries.

- › “Summarize the key points from these project documents.”
- › “Draft a first reply to send to the client.”
- › “What information do we need for a complete proposal?”
- › “Turn these bullet points into a professional email.”

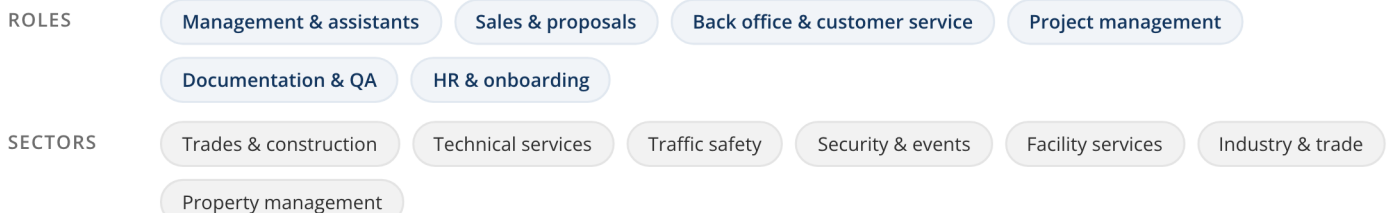

THE BENEFIT From scattered experiments to a controlled working tool.

- ✓ Fast access to internal knowledge
- ✓ Less time spent searching documents & folders
- ✓ Better preparation of proposals & client communication
- ✓ Less manual copying between tools
- ✓ Higher quality in texts & drafts
- ✓ Consistent AI use across the company
- ✓ Support for onboarding, handovers & cover
- ✓ Clear rules for data protection, approvals & content
